	I submit herewith the papers relating to the second volume of the Deputation Studies of Mr. Reddy. The papers are so voluminous that it is not possible to go through them in manuscript in a short time. I think Mr. Reddy may be asked to see it through the press and the Government Press at Mysore may be authorised to take up the work and print 600 copies.
	2 Regarding para 1 of the note of Mr. Reddy, it is for orders as to whether the work is to be printed for the information of Government & private circulation only or for general circulation.

REPLY.

(To be written on this margin.)

Office of the Dewan of Mysore.

NOTE.

Dated.....15th February.191 5.

3 (1) There is a good deal of information in the notes prepared by Mr.Reddy; but they have yet to be arranged properly. I would suggest that the matter be printed in separate pamphlets on cheap paper and covers by subjects somewhat as under:-

(1) A section on Education. (All information pertaining to Education in foreign countries might be brought together in one place.)

(2) Another section may be devoted to industries and commerce.

(3) A third to administrative and local Government matters.

(4) All otner matters not falling under any of the above heads may be given as 'Notes' by countries.

(2) The Secretary, E. & A., will, in consultation with Mr.Reddy, arrange for the number of pamphlets to be printed, the number to be circulated, the department and the members to whom they should be circulated, and whetner any copies should be made available for sale and if so, how many and at what prices. The cost of printing might also be roughly calculated.

(3) There is a lot of useful matter which might be studied with advantage both

kc
15.2-15

Gov 12-14 4

by the public and the departmental officers of Government. The printing in separate pamphlets is recommended so that each class of information might be made available for those who need it.

(4) Mr.Reddy might also be requested to write to the Secretary, E. & A., and obtain permission to print any remarks or matter which might be thought objectionable from a political or social point of view. There is no harm in retaining any strong expressions of opinion provided tney are not likely to cause offence.

(5) Copies of the pamphlets should be recorded both in the Secretariat and in the Office of the Inspector General of Education.

(6.) It would be well to print off the whole thing witnin a month's time. The information is getting old and interest in the matter will flag. The time for completion of the printing may, if necessary, be fixed in consultation with Mr.Yates.

I have roughly estimated the manuscript & reckon it will occupy at least 800 pages of type in similar style to the parts already printed. Considering the nature of the work & knowing from experience the time such publications take in passing through the press, I should say it would take from six to nine months to complete it, whereas it was done. It would not be possible to put it into type at one time. A sheet or two could be set up & passed for press as soon as practicable. The cost of production would be something like Rs 800 & Rs. 1000 in 1000 copies

My dear Balasundaram

In view of Mr Yates's estimate of the time required for writing my report, I beg to make the following representations: —

(1). I should be empowered to curtail the report-scope by $\frac{1}{3}$ of its bulk. This can be done by omitting either a part of the data collected, or the discussions + conclusions based on them. As data are of far higher importance, & losses irretrievable & would be made to appear, by way of reflection or suggestion. The weight of bare facts is likely to move things faster than light-skimming in the field of contentious opinion.

My dear Reddy,

Your letter of the 18th instant to hand.

I am sorry to hear that you have been ill again, but trust you are all right by now.

As you know very well the report of your deputation studies has already been long overdue, and any further delay in its publication in proper form will detract considerably from its usefulness.

Government have afforded you all reasonable facilities in the past, and also for the revision of your report, and they will, I am afraid, view with disfavour any futher delay, which is avoidable.

It pains me very much to have to note that the last sentence of your letter seems to indicate a somewhat insufficient appreciation of your responsibility in this connection. I trust, ~~nevertheless~~, that you have ~~will~~ set about revising your report ~~early~~, and arrange for seeing it through the press with as little loss of time as possible. Kindly keep me informed of the progress of the work and let me have a further sight at least. I shall also be obliged by your sending all important communications in this connection in the shape of official letters, as it is not always convenient to deal with demi-official letters in this office; especially where they have to be submitted to Members of Government and so on.

Yours sincerely,

possible for me to procure the services of a more satisfactory person.

In regard to the form of the report, the G.O. contemplates its being done in 3 sections: (a) General (b) Partly General & (c) Technical -- details of only departmental interest. A close study of the report and the work already done have convinced me that it is difficult to keep (a) & (b) distinct and that it would be better to combine them in one narration which, I think won't exceed 350 pages. I can guarantee that the production, if written on my lines, would be readable and interesting both to the general reader and the administrator. The bulk won't be prohibitive. Kindly let me know if this arrangement suits or if you expect a strict compliance with the letter of the G.O. which, I fear, would go against its real spirit. The third section above referred to does not require to be written up; I am only expected to send up the notes to the different departments concerned and I suppose I can utilise the pages of the original report for this purpose.

I doubt if the report can be finished in 2 months-- for, it requires drastic rewriting in a new form and I

Dear Sir,

With reference to your D.O. No. 406 dated Edn-13-14 Bangalore, 22nd July 1915, I beg to submit the following points for the kind consideration of Government, viz, (1) that my original report as stated by me in the memorandum referred to in your communication was completed and sent in within the time prescribed by Government (2) though I had the assistance of only one clerk instead of two as kindly sanctioned by Government and (3) though the duty of compiling the report was interfered with by work assigned to me ~~done by me~~ in connection with the Scheme for a Local University

If even after giving their kind considerati to these points, Government are still of opinion th there has been any delay in presenting my original report, I can of course say no more about it.

If there had been delay subsequently owing unforeseen difficulties about getting the report printed

(a) that of cutting up my original report into different sections and sending it or to the different departments. This, however, cannot be very satisfactory as the original report has a certain amount of unity and many sections will not be quite intelligible without reference to other sections. However, since the new report now prepared contains almost all the observations of a general nature, such as discussions of principles and so-forth, there will not really be any grave loss of subject matter in this mechanical procedure. For such matter as remains uncovered by the present report concerns only facts, figures, data, details of organisation etc., which can only interest the technician and need not therefore be put in literary form, unless specially desired.

(b) If, on the other hand, it is decided that I should Some give shape and form to the matter left behind by preparing more or less connected reports under the three heads into which they fall viz., Education, Industries and commerce, and local government, I beg to submit that the mere mechanical work of typing a draft and a fair copy will take about two months. I estimate that the matter will cover about 500 pages. Probably by drastic pruning, I may bring it down to 450 pages or so. But all this involves, in addition to such work as I may have to contribute, the clerical work of having to type including the rough and fair drafts of about 1,000 pages. The average number of pages that my clerk is able to type is four an hour, which would come to 24 or 25 pages a day, or about 150 pages a week. I therefore request that Government, in case they order the report to be prepared on the lines suggested in (b), would kindly sanction the extension of the clerk's services for another period not exceeding two

two months from the expiry of the period to which he is now appointed. If not, it would be physically impossible to cope with work of this magnitude.

I make this submissi[illegible] re are yet some ten days before the other part of my work can be taken up, [illegible] et instruction betimes, so that there may be no delay here owing to indefiniteness in the situation.

Sir,

I have the honor to ~~send~~ submit herewith per registered post, Deputation Studies No.2 which covers the entire field of education, industry and commerce, and local Government. Nothing is left out except the data and minute details which will be submitted under the title of "Data supplementary to Deputation Studies No. 2" as quickly as possible As the very title implies, it won't be in the form of a narrative report, but would be a mere compilation of data; for there is no further room for another report in narrative form. These data will be arranged under three sections corresponding to the three divisions of the report. In this connection, I beg to press for an answer to my communication No. 14 dated 11-8-1915 in regard to the extension of the services of the Shorthand-typist.

I beg that early orders may be issued for printing the report and that the printing may be entrusted to the branch press at Mysore, if convenient. Arrangements are made to send to my place two forms every day, the whole report, which does not exceed 220 pages, can be put through the press in one month, provided, of course, there are not unavoidable delays.

I beg that Government will again extend to me the courtesy they did in connection with Deputation Studies No. 1, of giving me a large number of copies for distribution amongst the persons in foreign countries who were kind enough to help me in my investigations. I was honoured with about 100 copies of Deputation Studies No.1; but since the present report covers a larger ground in which I have had assistance from a much larger number of people, I beg that Government may be pleased to give me 200 copies to be sent out by way of compliment to those to whom in my official capacity I am so deeply indebted.

As in the case of Deputation Studies No. 1, the present report may be treated as confidential.

MAHARAJA'S COLLEGE,

MYSORE.

Dated 10th September 1915.

Reference No. D.O. 1180 / Edn.12-14-344 dated 8-9-15.

Dear Sir,

In continuation of the letter written yesterday I beg to draw the kind attention of Government to these further particulars raised by your communicaion. The preparing of an index is an arduous, tedious process which may probably take from three to four weeks and delay publication badly; also it is a work which cannot be done without the assistance of a clerk, as it may probably require to be revised and re-written three or four times. I suggest that a copious table of contents would be quite ample.

I regret I cannot share in the responsibility implied by agreement in regard to the omission of all passages in which the contrast of Indian conditions is shown, as suggested by Government. The report as it stands, is both a plea for and an illustration of Realism; if the omissions are carried out it may remain a plea, but would cease to be an illustration, and dwindle to the position of precept unaccompanied by example. It has been remarked by most observers that one of the characteristics of the Indian mind is its capacity to read about things or to dwell in ideals without realising its bearing on actualities, and to fill itself with wishes and enthusiasms that are never checked by constant reference to the realities of the situation including one's own conduct. As an educationist as well as a publicist I have ever made it my aim to correct this vague visionariness, and the ineffectual sentimentality which accompanies it to the great annoyance of men intent on practical efficiency. We read about England or America or Japan with the same feeling of irresponsible remoteness with which we peruse fairy tales. It must also be remembered that the cause why certain things are observed, while others are ignored, is owing to the striking resemblance or contrast presented by them with reference to the conditions with which the observer is more familiar and in which all his interests are centered; and without direct reference to the conditions which determined the course of my observations, the narrative of observations would be like a baseless fabric. Doubtless some of the remarks may be, as your communication has it, too pointed, but then these are so much a matter of taste and temperament, that it would be worth while to allow each personality to speak its own natural tongue. If the remarks are apposite, ring true, genuine, sincere, it is hardly advisable to think so much of pleasing everybody as to decline the primary duty of pleasing oneself.

For these reasons, I think it would add to the logic as well as the value of the report to allow it to go forth in its original form. But if this is not possible, then I shall be only too glad if some official at the Secretariat, well versed in the reasonablities of politics, is entrusted with the task of editing the report and toning down the asperity of my language. I have absolutely no objection to this course, but would welcome it warmly. I shall be glad if you submit these views to the Dewan and take his opinion, though I am not over-anxious to see the present decision reversed or modified.

In regard to part III since writing to you my D.O. of 11th August 1915, and after an experimental attempt for my own satisfaction, I came to the conclusion that it would not be possible to do anything more. Because a narrative form implies the presence of general principles and observations like cement amongst bricks. But part II, in which I succeeded in putting all matter of general interest, together with sufficient data to give it substantiality, has deprived me of the means by which alone part III could be reconstructed as I once felt I would be able to do. In fact part III has not and cannot have independent existence--it is essentially an appendix to part II--and as such cannot be endowed with more form and consecutiveness than it now possesses. I send back part III so that in the light of my present observations Government may judge if this is not so. This was the reason why in sending it I altered the title originally proposed to "Notes supplementary to Part II." The original decision of the Government was not to publish it in book form, and I too think that there is little left after part II that is worth publishing.

Kindly convey to Government my sincere thanks for their courtesy in allowing me 100 copies for distribution. May I add that 100 copies are not enough and that it would be partly at ~~obligation~~ favour to myself, and partly a grateful recognition of the help rendered to their official by foreign ladies and gentlemen, if they would give me an additional 100 copies? This request is not made at hazard, for, I was not able to meet all the legitimate claims in connection with Deputation Studies No.1.

I am also thankful to Government for their kindness in extending the services of the Shorthand Typist. I do need assistance to see the work through the Press.

I will send an Abstract List of suggestions in due course. It would require a certain amount of thought. I am sure I shall be allowed the fullest liberty of expression without risk of being misunderstood.

I

I beg to invite the urgent attention of Government to the letter I despatched yesterday and request them to pass immediate orders regarding the number of copies to be struck, as the printing has already commenced. All the questions raised in this letter toc in regard to the present volume may kindly be disposed of immediately and a wire sent to me embodying full instructions.

Yours sincerely,
C.R.Reddy

P.S. After once again going through the Report, I find that the passages marked in red may be omitted without serious injury, though perhaps an emendation would be better. But this would mean time, further correspondence, and delay; perhaps, therefore, on the whole omission is best.

CRR

MYSORE.

Dated 12th September 1915.

My dear D'Souza,

Your idea seems to be that the whole book should be set up in type, one or two copies printed--of course clean proofs--,which should be sent for approval of Government. This would naturally be a most satisfactory course, but unfortunately, the capacity of the Branch Press--I am only speaking from my memory--is not equal to setting up more than about 32 pages at a time in type. These forms must be struck off, the type broken up, and the next 32 pages gone through in the same way. Thus you see, it is impossible to set the whole book in type and send it on for approval. So far as I know if you want it to be done in this, which is the most glorious way, indeed, you will have to indent at the Bangalore Government Press, or the S.P.C.K., Higginbothams, and Lawrence Asylumn Press at Madras. The Branch Press here is too humble a concerr for this undertaking.

However,

D.O.No. 1457/Edn 12-14-24 S./Edn 17th

[redacted] Bangalore, 24th September 1915.

Dear Sir,

In reply to your letters of the 10th and 12th September 1915 respectively regarding the printing of your 'Deputation Studies' I am desired to state that the arguments -- advanced by you for permitting you to indulge in an unfettered expression of your opinions do not possess much relevancy as apparently on further consideration you have decided to omit the passages marked ~~[illegible]~~.

2. Though they ~~do~~ may not assume any responsibility for the statements contained in your 'Deputation Studies', yet as the publication will be of a semi-official character, Government consider that no opinions likely to rouse unnecessary irritation or controversy should have a place in it.

3. You may substitute a table of contents for the index as proposed by you.

4. If the 'Deputation Studies' in its final form has been suitably revised as suggested in my previous letter there is no -- objection to your finally printing it. 400 copies may be printed. ~~of which you may retain 300 for distribution.~~ Govt. of Mysore think that you may print 50 copies for distribution.

5. As regards materials collected for Part III, Government consider that unless you prepare a connected report the matter contained therein is not likely to be of any use.

Government

Government cannot relieve you therefore of the responsibility to give a proper shape to the materials referred to. The extension of the services of the clerk was sanctioned on the understanding that you would also complete this work.

6. In conclusion, I am to point out that Government do not consider it satisfactory notwithstanding the fact that Government have afforded you every facility to complete the work, so far only a part of the information collected by you has been prepared for the Press.

Yours sincerely,

Secy., E & A.

Government cannot relieve you therefore of the responsibility to give a proper shape to the materials referred to. The extension of the services of the clerk was sanctioned on the understanding that you would also complete this work.

6. In conclusion, I am to point out that Government do not consider it satisfactory notwithstanding the fact that Government have afforded you every facility to complete the work, so far only a part of the information collected by you has been prepared for the Press.

Yours sincerely,

Secy., E & A.
